The aim of the Center for Consultation is to become a center for excellence in training and consultation in the various fields at the local, regional, and global level.

In accordance with BAU’s vision of providing high quality education and professional academic services, the Center for Consultation meets the lifelong learning and training needs of professionals from diverse backgrounds and with varying levels of expertise, and prepares them to face current challenges for them to become more creative, productive, and supportive individuals in the global community.

The Center is a recognized leader in international consultation and technical testing. Our teams are professionals at work in countries across the Middle East, Arab Gulf & Africa. The Center recruits a large group of multi-disciplinary BAU experts who have years of experience in international consultancy and technical assistance.
