Section One: Reading Comprehension

I. In this section, you will read short passages followed by some questions. Circle the letter next to the answer that best completes the sentence or answers the question.

Passage 1
It rained heavily that day. The old folks in the home had to stay indoors. Old Mr. Lim did not like that. There wasn’t anything that he enjoyed doing indoors in the home. All that made him happy was tending to the plants at the back of the home. Watering, talking and singing to them; these are the things that made his day. Staying indoors made Mr. Lim feel very bad tempered. When the rain cleared, Mr. Lim quickly got ready to go outside. He gathered all his tools and headed straight to the garden. To his dismay, his garden was damaged and in a mess. His newly planted sunflowers were all lying on the ground and his rose bush had lost quite a few buds. At first, Mr. Lim felt quite discouraged. He had spent quite a bit of time planting those flowers. His friends saw how upset he was about the situation, and consoled him. With his friends’ encouragement, he managed to create an even better garden than before. And that made him very happy!

   d. The ground

5. Mr. Lim managed to get over his disappointment ______.
   a. by working hard
   b. by staying indoors
   c. by creating new plants
   d. with his friends’ encouragement

Passage 2
Crocodiles are the world’s largest reptiles. Some species of other animals have become extinct but the crocodiles have not experienced such a fate. All 23 species of the crocodiles are still surviving. There are two types of crocodiles found in Australia, freshwater and estuarine. Their long jaws, protective armor, streamlined bodies and long tails make them very suitable for living in aquatic surroundings like swamps and rivers. Crocodiles are cold-blooded. Their body temperature changes according to the temperature of the air, water and land of its surrounding. Freshwater crocodiles can be found in the rivers and swamps in some parts of Australia.
They have a narrow snout and a reasonably straight jawline with even-sized teeth. Unlike the estuarine crocodiles, they are not 'man-eaters' and feed mainly on insects, frogs, lizards, turtles, with bats, birds and small mammals. The estuarine crocodiles, on the other hand, are found mainly in the warm climate of Sri Lanka, India, Myanmar as well as some other countries in Southeast Asia and Australia. They have broader snouts than freshwater crocodiles, with an uneven 'up and down' jawline and irregular-sized teeth. It is estimated that they can live for at least 70 to 100 years.

6. The crocodiles are different from other animals because ______
   a. none of their species have become extinct
   b. some of their species have become extinct
   c. they have snouts
   d. they live in rivers and swamps

7. There are ______ types of crocodiles in Australia.
   a. 2
   b. 3
   c. 17
   d. 23

8. Why are crocodiles suitable for aquatic surroundings?
   a. They have even jaws.
   b. They have long jaws and streamlined bodies
   c. They have large snouts
   d. They have uneven jaws.

9. Cold-blooded means ______.
   a. the animal's blood is cold
   b. the surrounding area is cold
   c. the body temperature changes according to the surroundings
   d. the body temperature becomes cold

10. Freshwater crocodiles differ from estuarine crocodiles in ______.
    a. their appearance
    b. their diet
    c. their appearance and living conditions
    d. their appearance and diet

Passage 3

One of the most popular literary figures in American literature is a woman who spent almost half of her long life in China, a country on a continent thousands of miles from the United States. In her lifetime she earned this country's most highly acclaimed literary award: the Pulitzer Prize, and also the most prestigious form of literary recognition in the world, the Nobel Prize for Literature. Pearl S. Buck was almost a household word throughout much of her lifetime because of her prolific literary output, which consisted of some eighty-five published works, including several dozen novels, six collections of short stories, fourteen books for children, and more than a dozen works of nonfiction. When she was eighty years old, some twenty-five volumes were awaiting publication. Many of those books were set in China, the land in which she spent so much of her life. Her books and her life served as a bridge between the cultures of the East and the West. As the product of those two cultures she became as described herself, "mentally bifocal." Her unique background made her into an unusually interesting and versatile human being. As we examine the life of Pearl Buck, we cannot help but be aware that we are in fact meeting three separate people: a wife and mother, an internationally famous writer, and a humanitarian and philanthropist. One cannot really get to know Pearl Buck without learning about each of the three. Though honored in her lifetime with the William Dean Howel Medal of the American Academy of Arts and Letters in addition to the Nobel and Pulitzer prizes, Pearl Buck, as a human being not only a famous author, is a captivating subject of study.
11. What is the author's main purpose in the passage?
   a. To offer a criticism of the works of Pearl Buck.
   b. To illustrate Pearl Buck's views on Chinese literature
   c. To indicate the background and diverse interests of Pearl Buck
   d. To discuss Pearl Buck's influence on the cultures of the East and the West

12. Which of the following is NOT mentioned by the author as an award received by Pearl Buck?
   a. The Nobel Prize
   b. The Newberry Medal
   c. The William Dean Howell medal
   d. The Pulitzer prize

13. According to the passage, Pearl Buck was an unusual figure in American literature in that she______.
   a. wrote extensively about a very different culture
   b. published half of her books abroad
   c. won more awards than any other woman of her time
   d. achieved her first success very late in life

14. According to the passage, Pearl Buck described herself as "mentally bifocal" to suggest that she was______.
   a. capable of resolving the differences between two distinct linguistic systems
   b. keenly aware of how the past could influence the future
   c. capable of producing literary works of interest to both adults and children
   d. equally familiar with two different cultural environments

15. The author's attitude toward Pearl Buck could best be described as______.
   a. indifferent
   b. admiring
   c. sympathetic
   d. tolerant
